

Dr. Hajed Hashan

Dr. Hajed Hashan graduated with a bachelor degree in Pharmacy from King Saud University, Saudi Arabia in 1994. He continued his higher education in 1997 and got a master degree in Pharmaceutical Services & Medicines Control from University of Bradford, United Kingdom in 1998. He got his PhD in 2005 from University of Wails, United Kingdom in the “Evaluation of the review process for marketing pharmaceutical products in the gulf states and its impact on patients’ access to medicines”.

He started his professional experience in 1994 as Deputy Director of Medicine Directorate at the General Directorate of Medical Supplies- Ministry of Health. In 1999, he was assigned as the Director of Pharmaceutical Affairs in the General Directorate of Medical Licenses & Pharmaceutical Affairs.

After that, he held the position of the Executive Director of Licensing Department in the Drug Sector- Saudi Food & Drug Authority (SFDA). Currently, He is the Deputy of General Director in Gulf Health Council.